Nurse
Educators
Special
Interest
Group

The Nurse Educators Special Interest Group was formed in February 2005 to address the ongoing issues relating to nurse training and staff development in both the healthcare setting and in academic institutions.

General meetings will be held quarterly, and will focus upon a variety of issues, trends and challenges that faces educators in their workplace. These forums will also provide a great opportunity for networking with other educators and promoting peer group discussion.

The Nurse Educators Special Interest Group is a resource and networking opportunity for anyone engaged in the many areas of nurse education. All are welcome!

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES:

To promote the cohesion and unity of both clinical and academic nurse educators

To advance the profile of nurse educators as a separate but integrated discipline within the healthcare context

To facilitate a culture of peer support and active networking to enhance individuals knowledge and experience
